MURPHREE ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

For Governor in August Primaries—Served As Governor and Three Terms As Lieutenant

Honorable Dennis Murphree, Lieutenant Governor of Mississippi has announced his candidacy for Governor.

He has served as Lieutenant Governor for three terms and served as Governor for ten months, completing the unexpired term of Governor Harry L. Whitfield. In making his announcement Governor Murphree issued the following statement.

LT.-GOV. DENNIS MURPHREE

Way back in 1917 Uncle Sam would not accept me for military service because of a broken ankle. To day at the age of 57, and with the same infirmity, again there is no place for me in the armed forces.

Like every loyal American, I want to find the place where I can best render service in this crisis. Qualified by 23 years of active experience as legislator, lieutenant governor and ten months as governor, I believe that perhaps better than anyone else, I know the business of government of Mississippi. I have held places of much responsibility, with little financial compensation. Too, while I have originated and put through many helpful and progressive things for our people, yet it has been my lot to stand aside and see others receive the credit.

Ability, loyalty, and experience are qualities which in Uncle Sam's service are recognized. Promotion is given to the soldier who in active service and by experience has proved that he is qualified and deserves it. The record will show that Dennis Murphree has made that kind of soldier in Mississippi's service.

Believing that this is where I can serve best, that I possess the qualities above mentioned, and having served three terms as Lieutenant Governor, I feel and believe that I deserve to be promoted. Therefore, I have made up my mind to volunteer my services to the people of Mississippi as Governor for the next four years.

Today, all over America the "pay as you go" plan, as applied to the business of government is becoming increasingly popular. I made a race for Governor of Mississippi in 1927, and in this campaign I originated the phrase, "pay as you go," as applied to state government. It is my information that since the civil war we have had four administrations in which the State of Mississippi carried out the "pay as you go" plan. It has been my privilege to serve as Lieutenant Governor and President of the Senate during three of these "pay as you go" administrations. I take pride in the fact that during the present administration, I helped to provide free textbooks for the children of the state.

At this time, we hear much talk of opposition to centralization of political power. Everybody in Mississippi knows how a few years ago I led the fight against the "Dictator Highway Bill," the Brookings Institute plan, and the Constitutional Convention. Therefore, as shown by the records, I am no new convert. I have always opposed centralization of political power. As to states' rights: My grandfather was killed in the battle of Franklin, Tennessee, and my father spent four years on the fields of battle. Both of them were fighting for states' rights. By birth, tradition and environment I am a believer in these principles.

As a legislator, I claim the honor of having been responsible for the origination of the idea of state aid for sick and indigent people in the small hospitals of the state, and for the passage of the bill to create the department for aid to crippled children. During the present administration, I was largely responsible for the adoption of the plan of state and federal aid to widows and or-

WAR RATION BOARD COLUMN

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD RATION BOOK 2

Registering for the new No. 2 Ration Book which is being handled by volunteer workers of the Civilian Defense Volunteer Office is going splendidly with more than half of the people from the city and county already registered.

The War Production Board has been somewhat handicapped in taking care of the people in the county but have overcome most of the difficulties involved.

INSTITUTIONS, HOTELS, ETC.

Institutional users such as groceries, hotels, institutions, etc., are herewith notified that they must register for their regular sugar during the period between March 1st and 10th.

TIRE RE-CAPPING

It is no longer necessary to have a certificate to have tires recapped and anyone requiring tires recapped will be able to have same done simply by contacting a tire dealer.

SHOE RATION STAMPS FOR SOLDIERS

All men in the armed forces must surrender their ration books for shoes, etc., as they will be issued certificates for shoes by their commanding officers, and the stamps covering other articles rationed are not required because soldiers are provided with all food necessities.

"MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATIONS ON FRESH VEGETABLES NOW EFFECTIVE"

To forestall speculations and price advances on all fresh vegetables following the general rationing of canned and processed foods The Office of Price Administration has issued an order freezing a ceiling price on fresh vegetables. The order is immediately in effect and is temporary for sixty days pending permanent regulations which will be issued. The order effects fresh vegetable prices such as tomatoes, carrots, green snap beans, cabbage, peas, etc., and other fresh vegetables as they come on the market all of which will come under a definite ceiling price which will be the same as price charged during a five day period February 18-22 inclusive.

A check will be made on retail stores to see that these ceiling prices are observed, and a periodical check will be made from time to time to eliminate the possibility of any price speculations or other out of line prices. The entire rationing plan is new to everyone and it will take us a little time to properly understand it and use it for the purpose for which it is put into effect. The public should have in mind that rationing is not a plan created by the Government to impose hardship on anyone—it is simply a protective measure to give the benefit of our available food supply after our Armed Forces and our Allies, both of which must come first, are taken care of.

I shall not make a long campaign. I believe the people of Mississippi will resent rather than approve a long drawn out political campaign in this year of stress. Beginning about June 1, I expect to present to the people of the state a progressive platform and my idea of how the business of government should be conducted during the next four years.

This will be my last political campaign. Today I received letters from Lt. Sam Lumpkin and Sgt. Joe T. Patterson. Each of these men served as speaker of the House of representatives in the recent legislative session. Both were exempt from military service. Both resigned their places and are now fighting for their country in the armed forces. I use their names to illustrate the fact that there are thousands of Mississippians who have answered their country's call and are offering their lives on the altar of service. When this war has been won, and they return to Mississippi, these heroes will deserve and receive the rewards at the hands of our people in the future. I will not compete with them for further political honors.

CURFEW LAW IN EFFECT IN BAY ST. LOUIS AT ONCE

Children Sixteen and Under Not Permitted on Streets Or in Public Amusement Places After 11 O'clock

The Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis passed an ordinance while in session on February 15th, 1943, whereby it will be unlawful for any boy or girl under the age of sixteen years to be on the streets or sidewalks of the city of Bay St. Louis or at any public place, park or amusement place without a chaperone or person designated as a guardian who is over twenty-one years of age.

The Commission Council also placed penalties of not less than $2.50 or more than $25.00 on any person found guilty of violating this ordinance.

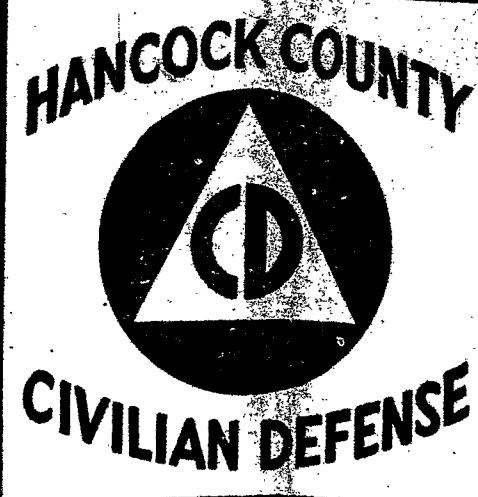

This ordinance as a war measure since delinquency among minors has become so great and in an attempt to curtail the amount of delinquency among the young people of the community, also in line with the policy which is being enforced all over the nation in order to safeguard youth.

Field Auditors Will Assist Taxpayers In Preparing Tax Reports

The State Tax Commission has issued an itinerary for its field auditors for aiding and assisting taxpayers in preparing and filing their 1943 income tax reports.

On March 5th Mr. S. C. Davis, Field Auditor for the State Tax Commission will be at the Court House in the City of Bay St. Louis for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in preparing and filing their state tax reports. Mr. Davis will be glad to advise any of the taxpayers on any matters about which they may be in doubt.

On March 4th and 5th Mr. James McManus, Field Auditor for the United States Internal Revenue Department will also be at the Court House to assist taxpayers in preparing and filing their Federal income tax reports.

To protect our country from air raids, our system of Civilian Defense and Aircraft Warning Service have been organized. Air Raid Wardens and other members of the Civilian Defense operate to render observation by hostile planes difficult. Blackouts are ordered when hostile planes are in the vicinity.

The Aircraft Warning Service operates continuously to give warning of hostile planes. This service consists of observation posts located in all our border territory to a depth of 200 miles or more inland. Posts are so spaced that any plane passing will be seen or heard by one or more posts. These observers, called Airplane Spotters report by telephone all planes seen or heard to Information Centers located throughout the United States approximately 200 miles apart. Each Post gives warning to communities 75 to 100 miles away and gets its warning from reports of stations a similar distance.

Observation Stations have been established in Hancock County. Sufficient observers are needed to operate these 24 hours a day in case of an emergency. At present they are operated 14 hours a day. It is not necessary for an observer to be able to identify the plane by name or nationality. An observer's duties are not difficult. Almost any patriotic citizen can spare 2 or more hours a week to serve his country as an observer. Some observers are serving 2 to 4 hours a day seven days a week. At some posts two people volunteer to take care of a period of two hours a day and arrange between the two for one to be on duty. Others take 2 or more hours one or more days a week. Each gives what he can spare. To man a post within undue call on some members of the community requires a list of 24 to 50 volunteers when operating on a 24 hour basis.

All our aid defense is dependent upon the operation of the Aircraft Warning Service. The lone spotter in the observation post gives the warning. Without the Aircraft Warning Service, a community's first notice would be the drone of the hostile plane overhead and the dropping of bombs. G. general Arnold, Chief of the Air Corps classes them as members of the team of equal importance to the pilot of the fighter or bombing plane, the gunner, the bombardier or the mechanic who services the planes.

Observation Stations have been established in Hancock County. Sufficient volunteer observers are needed to operate them 24 hours a day in case of emergency. An excellent observation post is operated by St. Stanislaus College. During the summer spotters will be needed probably from citizens of Hancock County. An observation post in the vicinity of Clermont Harbor under the supervision of Mr. H. T. Carr needs observers now. Mr. Carr has at his own expense erected the finest observation tower along the Gulf Coast. An observation post is being organized in the vicinity of Pearlinton and will need spotters.

All patriotic citizens of Hancock County who are willing to serve as "airplane spotters" at a station in Hancock County are requested to submit their names, number of hours they can spot per week, the number of miles they can go from home to observe and the location of their home with mail address.

The Aircraft Warning Service is the co-operative effort of thousands of patriotic people throughout the land who are anxious to do what they can to defend our nation. These observation posts are manned in part by women, in part by school children over 14 years of age and in part by employed men who devote a few hours a week when off duty.

Observers are classed by the regulations of the Office of Price Administration as workers and are entitled to supplemental gasoline rations when needed to go to the observation post.

MID-YEAR CONCERT BY STANISLAUS BAND RARE MUSICAL TREAT

Last Sunday evening, February 21, the St. Stanislaus Band covered itself with glory by rendering an excellent performance, a real musical treat for the benefit of the people in the local community. The concert was given in the St. Joseph Auditorium and was roundly applauded by the large crowd in attendance.

A remarkable improvement in the band was noted. Their precision in timing, instrumentation and perfect intonation did justice to the inherent beauty of the classical and semi-classical numbers played. As a competent band it is fast gaining the reputation as the best ever heard in these parts.

The outstanding performance by the band was the playing of the overture "Sir Galahad" written by R. E. Hildreth. More than in any other selection were the dynamics of musical composition exhibited. It was a pleasure to enjoy the thrill of the harmonious rise and fall in music of this dramatic poem with which we are all so familiar.

Another attractive number was the semi-classic "Louise" from the Musical Comedy by the same name. Rich in melody and greatly contrasted in tempo it naturally appealed to the audience. It is an example of the kind of music that is universally accepted as typically American.

"Stepping Along," a concert march by Goldman, permitted the band to display its talent for syncopation, another characteristic of genuine American music of our modern era.

The entire program was climaxed by the appearance for the second time of our great artist, the nationally known concert virtuoso, Mrs. Louis B. Pate. Her artistic interpretation of Beethoven's "Sonata Pathétique" on the piano held the entire assembly enrapt as they sat in hushed silence. It is not often that a community is privileged to hear a master develop a musical theme as the genius who wrote it dreamed that it would be done. We are grateful to Mrs. Pate for her kind generosity in being so prodigal of her talent. The ease and gracefulness of her renditions on the piano are an inspiration to all music aspirants. As an encore Mrs. Pate graciously acquiesced to the request of the audience and played one of her own melodious compositions—the enchanting "Concert Waltz."

The people of Bay St. Louis and the entire student body of St. Stanislaus are indeed fortunate to have these free band concerts. Music is an art and as such an educational device as well as a medium of entertainment. Consequently, whatever praise we can give these musically inclined boys by showing our appreciation of their efforts will go a long way in encouraging them to make even greater improvement. Our congratulations to Brother Romuald, to all the Members of the Band! Our humble thanks to Mrs. Louis B. Pate for her condescension in delighting us with her charming personality and heavenly music.

Louis on Tuesday morning conferring with A. E. Cox director O.C.D. Dr. Morgan was enroute to a meeting at the Buena Vista Hotel for the leaders of Civilian Defense of Military Area No. 1 embracing the three coast counties.

Publicity Chairman War Fund Drive Committee

Mr. and Mrs. Public: Meet the National Red Cross, the American Red Cross and the Hancock County Chapter American Red Cross.

You have met them before, of course. You know them quite well in World War No. 1 and maybe you forgot them for a while—you are apt to do that, you know, when you don't need them.

But this is World War No. 2 and you need to become intimately acquainted with some of the things being done by these agencies for your boy in service.

You are restless, you are lonesome for your boys and you are feeling a bit useless because you can't help very much. But you can. You can help in a big way in return for the things that your Red Cross Chapter is doing for your boy. Yes, for millions of others, of course, but still for your boy.

The American Red Cross (your chapter is one unit) has sent large quantities of food, clothing, medical supplies, surgical dressings and other necessities to relieve the suffering on foreign soil. St. Nick from his home at the North Pole took the long way around at Christmas, and picked up American Red Cross supplies for U. S. Armed Forces in Alaska and Canada.

When the need of volunteer blood donors was more than tripled the Army and Navy asked the American Red Cross for 4,000,000 pints of blood for 1943. The A. R. C. took immediate action. Additional centers are being opened up in key cities. With the inauguration of the Blood Donor Roll Plan donations were stepped up. The 4,000,000 pints will be supplied. San Quentin prisoners donated 238 pints of blood. When? When the A. R. C. Blood Procurement Units visited the penitentiary.

A wounded lieutenant in a hospital said, "I was receiving the best of medical care, but I was lonesome. Then a Red Cross girl came to see me, bringing chocolates and American cigarettes. And we talked United States. Boy, was I glad to see her."

Well, maybe you want to hear of something that happened at home. A mother was desperately ill, she wanted to see her son. The home chapter got a message through and reached him as he was about to board a ship for a foreign port and he was able to get home.

A fatally sick father wanted to see his five children and no two of them were at one place. The A. R. C. local chapter was responsible for three of them, too, to reach their father. The other two were not in the service.

A boy's parents could not hear from their son. The Red Cross chapter worked relentlessly until definite knowledge reached his parents. Not cheering knowledge but at least they now know.

How many of you when your boy, who was your only support, entered the service and you were waiting for a check, got help from the Red Cross? Hands up on that! That's a lot of hands but the Red Cross didn't mind, did it? It just went on helping all who were in need.

Now what are you going to do when you are asked to contribute to the Red Cross War Fund Drive? Why you are going to contribute in a big way. There isn't any doubt about that. It's the opportunity you have been waiting for.

Listen in on Sunday to the nationwide broadcast and you'll know why this drive. Plan to be at home during the drive so you can give your donation and be sure you do it with a smile. It is a great feeling to have a chance to give when you have been receiving. Remember the story of the widow—she gave all that she had. You won't be asked to do that, but you are going to wish you could do that.

Keep the Red Cross War Fund Drive uppermost in your mind.

BUD'S LETTER

Dear Red:
I sure did get scared the other day, but I corrected the trouble in a hurry. I was just doing a little honest stealing from everybody in the United States. Now Red I wasn't stealing from Uncle Sam, but it seems that he doesn't approve of my taking anything from anyone.

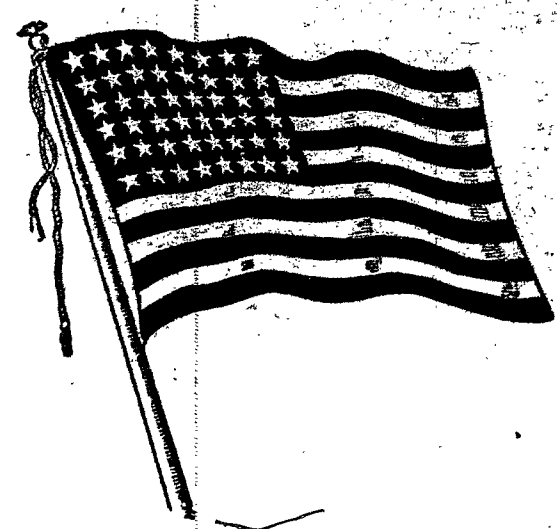

As you know, my kid brother went to the army a while back. He asked me to turn in his ration book for him, but being a smart fellow, I just kept it and was getting his sugar and coffee.

Well, my wife's brother finds out about it and does he scorch me for doing such a thing. He says there is a nice penalty of a $10,000 fine and 10 years in jail for doing such a thing. (If you wish you can work out the fine at 30c a day, he says.) He says the only reason I am in trouble about it is because the ration board members is just good men and don't want to get any body in trouble if they can help it. He says they can find out about it easy enough, but are just giving me a chance to turn in the card and not get in trouble. Anyhow, I walks to their office in 3 minutes flat and turns in that card.

Now Red, I gets to thinking about it and concludes that the fine and jail sentence aint the real issue anyway. There is a shortage of sugar and coffee and Uncle Sam is doing the best he can for us. Now I had rather the shipping space he used to send ammunition to England and Russia, than to bring me coffee and sugar from the opposite direction in South America.

You may wonder why such a sudden change in me. Well, I just hadn't thought. People nowadays has got to think and apply their thinking in the right way. Other people cant do our thinking for us, because everybody is busy trying to save his own skin, especially in times like these.

She divided her summers between New Orleans and the home of her parents here and was well known. Her death was extremely sad and to her beloved family the sympathy of the Echo is offered.

REALIZES A CHERISHED AMBITION

WHEN news reached Bay St. Louis that Hon. Curtis L. Waller had been appointed by the President of the United States to fill a vacancy on the Bench of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans, his many friends were quite elated and happy upon receipt of these good tidings.

Judge Waller has realized a life-long ambition. While engaged in the practice of law at Bay St. Louis he expressed to the writer and to many of his other friends the desire to some day be a Federal Judge. We are happy to know that he has realized that ambition. We feel certain that Curtis Waller will make a splendid Judge.

He is an able lawyer, and in Florida where he has made his residence for the last several years, he has become recognized as one of the leading attorneys of that state. In fact, it was he who gave to Florida a statute which now enables them to clear title to lands; this statute being patterned along the lines of our Mississippi law.

We in Hancock County feel that we can call Judge Waller one of our citizens. He came to Bay St. Louis when quite a young man, having served as secretary to Senator Harrison while he was a Member of Congress, he entered into a law partnership with the late Hon. Walter J. Gex, Sr. and while thus engaged he formed many friends throughout the county. He was elected as Hancock County's Representative and was forced to resign this position when his firm opened a law office at Tallahassee.

Judge Waller commanded the respect and admiration of all who knew him. He was affectionately called 'Colonel' and today many of his old friends still choose to call him by that name.

He commanded a National Guard Company in the early '20's in Bay St. Louis. The editor of this paper was a member of that Company, and many are the times when he heard the boys express the hope and the desire that, if it ever became necessary to go to war that Captain Waller would be our Commanding Officer.

Judge Waller married Miss Lucy McGinn, a native of Bay St. Louis, and has one daughter, Mary Ann; and we are hoping to see the day when the Judge and Mrs. Waller and their daughter will decide that Bay St. Louis is their home and has been, and that they have only been temporarily absent.

We wish Judge Waller much success and are happy that he has realized his most cherished ambition; and to those who are responsible for his appointment, we must say, a better choice could not have been made; and to those who shall have business before his Court, we say, you will have an able jurist, temperamentally fitted to make a good judge; a man whose heart is pinned to the lapel of his coat and who is interested in humanity. May God bless him and guide him in his work.

OUR POSITION IN GOVERNOR'S RACE

ANNOUNCEMENTS are being made for political offices in the election that will take place in August. In our section it has been extremely quiet and there has been very little political talk. People are too busily engaged in their work and in aiding and assisting the different agencies of Government in carrying on the work of winning this war, to discuss much politics.

However, four candidates have announced for the office of Governor, the latest announcement being that of Hon. Dennis Murphree, Lieutenant Governor of Mississippi. Governor Murphree has served Mississippi as Lieutenant Governor three times and served the unexpired term of the late Governor Henry L. Whitfield as Governor of Mississippi.

He has been a candidate for Governor on two occasions. Once he was defeated in the second primary by the Hon. Theo. G. Bilbo, and the last time he was a candidate he was eliminated in the first primary by a few thousand votes.

It shall become the duty of the citizenry of Mississippi to select its leader for the next four years, and in selecting this leader we should give much thought to the problems that are confronting us and shall confront us during our war period and post war period.

There has been a great tendency to centralize government. In fact, some of our Federal officers are moving heaven and earth to destroy states rights, to destroy the democratic principles of government; and in selecting a man to be our Governor, we should select one who has proven to the people of his state that he is not for the centralization of state government at Jackson; one who has proven to the people that it is not his plan to destroy county government; one who has proven that it is not his purpose to set up a dictatorship in our state government; and the one man whom we feel can be depended upon to carry out these policies and these principles, is our present Lieutenant Governor, Hon. Dennis Murphree.

It can well be remembered that when one of the present candidates was governor of Mississippi he attempted to call a Constitutional Convention and had reports made by some northern institute for the purpose of centralizing the government of Mississippi, and it was only through the efforts and the influence of Dennis Murphree that a Constitutional Convention and the centralization of government in Mississippi did not take place.

Dennis Murphree has been a faithful public official. The finger of suspicion has not been pointed at him. Even the men who have engaged in political campaigns against him speak of his loyalty to his state and to his friends.

For quite some time we have debated as to whom we would support in the race for governor, whether it would be Dennis Murphree or Tom Bailey, and we have finally concluded that we should cast our lot with the Lieutenant Governor, as we believe that he is deserving of being elected Governor of Mississippi.

We feel certain that he will safeguard the rights of our State and that he will battle to see that these rights are not usurped by the Federal Government, and we feel certain, too, that Governor Murphree will not attempt to destroy that Constitution which our forefathers wrote and which has endured the onslaught of many able lawyers; and for these reasons we are for Dennis Murphree for Governor.

Designating Members of Family In Service

The first official symbol, indicating that an immediate member of a family is serving in the armed forces of the United States in the current war, has been approved by the Secretary of War, headquarters, Fourth Service Command, announced.

The symbol takes the form of a service flag and the approved design is a blue star, on a rectangular field of white within a red border, for each member of the family in service. A service label button is also provided, its design and use corresponding with the service flag. The "immediate family" referred to in the authorization for the flag, includes father, mother, wife, son, daughter, brother, sister or husband.

If the individual symbolized by the blue star is killed while serving, or dies from causes other than dishonorable, a gold star is superimposed upon the blue star, so that a border of blue may be seen.

Authorization is also made for organizations, such as churches, schools, colleges, fraternities, sororities or places of business to display the service flag for members in the armed forces. Instead, however, of using a separate star for each member of the organization serving, one star may be used with the number of members indicated by Arabic numerals to appear below the star. In case members of the organization are killed or die from honorable causes while serving, a gold star is also shown, with the number of deceased members indicated in Arabic numerals below the gold star.

al emblem must always be given the place of honor.

The service flags or buttons will not be manufactured, issued or sold by the Government. Their manufacture and sale will be by private concerns, which must be authorized by the Secretary of War, but any person or firm who manufactures or sells either the service flags or buttons without such authorization, shall upon conviction, be fined not more than $1,000.

RECEIVES HIGH MILITARY DECORATIONS

Second Lieutenant James M. Walker, U. S. Marines Corps Reserve, son of Mrs. Florence M. Walker of Pasadena, has received high military decorations for conspicuous gallantry in actions against the Japanese at Guadalcanal.

Lt. Walker is a nephew of Mrs. Harold May of Bay St. Louis and Waveland. She is director of the Nursery School here.

The following is the citation received by Lt. Walker: "For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action while serving as pilot of a Naval transport pilot operating in the Solomon Islands area on September 14, 1942. Lt. Walker arrived at Henderson Field on Guadalcanal with a cargo of emergency supplies for troops at that point and remained at his post supervising the loading of wounded in his plane, even though the field was under continuous attack by enemy planes. He took off with fourteen wounded and as he did so his plane was attacked by four enemy fighter planes. Lt. Walker displayed outstanding skill and courage in maneuvering his plane while being attacked in order to allow sufficient time for Navy fighter planes to come to his rescue. He successfully completed the evacuation of the wounded with a plane which had no defensive armament. His gallant conduct was in keeping with the highest traditions of the Naval service."

"CHINA GIRL" EXCITING
HIT BLENDS ACTION AND ROMANCE

At A. & G. Theater Sunday-Monday—Starring Gene Tierney, Montgomery, And Lynn Bari

One of the most powerful pictures to come out of the present times will open Sunday at the A. & G. Theater. Tensely dramatic, tightly woven together against a world teeming with fury and flame, 20th Century-Fox's "China Girl" commands attention from the first startling scene to its climatic closing.

Starring Gene Tierney in the title role, George Montgomery as a fighting, flying Yank who doesn't know when to quit, and Lynn Bari as Captain Fifi, curvaceous renegade, the film has the indelible mark of one of Hollywood's outstanding writers and producers, Ben Hecht.

Featured too, are Alan Baxter, Sig Ruman, Myron McCormick and Bobby Blake. The film, which was directed by Henry Hathaway with a deft sense of heart-warming humor, as well as dramatic suspense, is fully as big, in an entertainment way, as the fighting heart of China itself. Here is a story of a great love, caught in the maelstrom of war, a completely intriguing film capturing the true valor of a valiant people.

Opening with a thrilling escape from a Jap prison by Montgomery, an American newsreel cameraman and McLaughlin, the film takes in territory as newsworthy as tomorrow's headlines. Montgomery lams it to Burma, with the Japs hot on his trail because he refused to photograph the Burma road for them. Here George meets Gene Tierney, a patriotic Chinese girl, and falls in love.

The exciting climatic sequences are said to have some of the most realistic bombing scenes ever filmed.

Ten Legal Holidays

Mississippi has already used up three of her ten 1943 holidays: January First—New Year's Day; January 19—Robert E. Lee's Birthday; February 22—George Washington's Birthday. Our next legal holiday will be on April 26—Memorial Day, which originated at Columbus, when the graves of the Confederate soldiers were decorated by the women of that town, who with generous and unselfish emotion also decorated the graves of the federal soldiers who slept in the same cemetery. It was that gracious act which furnished the inspiration for Judge Finch's fine poem "The Blue and the Gray."

81st Birthday

Friends of E. S. Candler in the Mississippi capital and elsewhere over the state have noted with interest that the Cornith statesman celebrated his 81st birthday a few days ago. Mr. Candler is a relative of the Atlanta, Georgia, Candler who originated Coca Cola. Mr. Candler represented the first district of Mississippi in Congress for 20 years, 1901 to 1921. Only three men have served in Congress from that district since 1885—John Allen, Zeke Candler and John Rankin.

Williams Store Burned

The Williams store at Philadelphia with all of its contents went up in smoke on Sunday afternoon, February 14. That store was owned by Brown Williams and his brother and was operated by them for many years. Since the death of Brown Williams the store has been operated by his brother and widow. The Williams store was located about one mile west of the corporation line of Philadelphia. It was written up by a national magazine as being the largest rural store in the United States. The loss was said to be around $150,000, partially covered by insurance.

Bank Deposits Up

A statement given out last week by Bank Comptroller Joseph Latham shows that the banks of Mississippi, State and National, had on deposit on the last day of December, 1942, the sum of $386,879,000. Mississippi has 202 banks operating in the state, of which 24 are National and 178 are State Banks. The condition of the banks in the state is given as 90 per cent liquid. Deposits in the 202 banks show an increase of 43 per cent in the 12 months ending December 31st.

New O. P. A. Ration Order

OPA at Washington suspended the sale of canned meats and fish last Thursday morning. This order will be in effect until reversed by that office. During this week, beginning Monday everybody must register for Ration Book 2. Full particulars about the registration will be found in the newspapers and your local merchant will also be able to give you information on the matter of registering.

Governor in Hot Springs

Gov. Paul Johnson is spending a few days at Hot Springs resting and recuperating from a severe cold. Lt. Governor Dennis Murphree is performing the duties of the Governor's office in the absence of Gov. Johnson.

Big Pen Break

Early Saturday morning on February 13th nineteen convicts escaped from the Parchman prison. The daring break had evidently been well planned and when the watchman opened the door to wake the cooks who get breakfast the 19 prisoners overpowered him and made their escape. They got away in a car and truck belonging to the institution, after securing guns from the prison arsenal. Practically all of the escaped men have been recaptured and all without any one being killed, according to information in hand at the time this is being written. Gov. Johnson gave out a statement from his hotel in Hot Springs that he would go to Parchman and make an investigation of the escape upon his return to the State.

The Secretary of State Walker Wood has completed the job of mailing out to members of the Legislature and libraries entitled under the laws to receive them, copies of the House and Senate Journals of the 1942 session.

Raking Around—

It has been announced from Washington that the manufacture of alarm clocks may be resumed right soon, mostly for war workers but perhaps about 1,500,000 this year for civilian use. The Associated Press reports from Pasadena, California, a rainfall in 24 hours of 25.83 inches on January 22-23, 1943, a record for all time. The longest railway tunnel in the Western Hemisphere is the Cascade in the State of Washington. It is 7.3 miles long. In the past two weeks federal agents have captured 16 moonshine stills and arrested in that connection 23 people. The oldest clown in the world, "Dad" Cavilla, age 94, visited in Jackson last week. ORTTE THEATER
SUNDAY - MONDAY
PRESENTS "TISH"

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Production.

Marjorie Main, who has heckled Wallace Beery comically in recent pictures, comes into her own in a role that might have been specially written for her, as the redoubtable Letitia Carberry in "Tish," based on Mary Roberts Rinehart's beloved fiction character.

As the domineering spinster of the Rinehart stories, she is teamed with ZaSu Pitts and Alice MacMahon. The three cronies decide to do a little matchmaking, believing that Lee Bowman and Susan Peters ought to fall in love, arrange a camping trip, and go "hunting" and fishing to leave them alone together. Result, they get by a tame bear, capsize their boat into a lake, are arrested by the game warden and spend a night in jail, while Bowman and Virginia Grey become engaged and Miss Peters elopes with Richard Quine. The romance of the younger couple is pathetic, when the boy is reported lost at sea and the bride dies giving birth to a baby which Tish adopts. The baby causes a scandal in the village, raises comical as well as dramatic complications which a hilarious climax finally straightens out.

S. Sylvan Simon directed with delicacy and skill and the three comedienne provide one of the funniest teams over to come out of Hollywood. Bowman makes a dashing lover, Miss Grey is beautiful and Quine and Miss Peters are an engaging young couple. Guy Kibbee adds much to the hilarity of the story, as also do Ruby Danridge and Al Shean. Some beautiful locations at California's Big Bear Lake figure in the action, as well as a New England small town. Paul Vogel photographed the story with artistic effect and O. O. Dull produced.

M. Russell has been in a hospital in Jackson for several days, and his condition has been reported as serious. . . . Senator Jim Eastland has entered a protest against the rationing of shoes, saying he does not believe there is any real necessity for that action. . . . The Missouri legislature has under consideration a Bill requiring all people who apply for a marriage license in that state to produce with the application a health certificate. The lower house has passed the Bill. . . . Mississippi's first blood bank has been opened in Meridian. . . . The State Board of Dental Examiners was in session in Jackson last week and put OK on 14 applications to practice Dentistry in the State.

Girl Scout Field Executive
Meets With Local Girl
Scout Leaders Tuesday

Miss Mary Esther Brooks, Girl Scout Field Executive for the Dixie Region, met on Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Leo W. Seal, with leaders and committee members of Girl Scout Troops 1 and 2.

Miss Brooks brought out the added responsibilities to be assumed by scout leaders because of changes in communities where war has caused sudden increases in population. She said the Girl Scout program is one of the largest National programs in use today and that it is hoped that 1,000,000 girls will be reached thru it.

In towns badly effected by war there is a great need of recreation for children, she said, and that girls could be trained in scout work to take care of smaller children or shut-ins while adults would then be released to do other types of work to help win the war.

Girls, Miss Brooks said, could be trained filter centers as messengers. They could also make arm bands, overseas kits thus again releasing adults for other work.

Miss Brooks said that the strength of a program depends upon its leader. That a leader must be alert and that though conditions have made people busy, leadership hasn't lessened and scout work is not neglected. Scouting is recognized nationally, the speaker said, and scout leaders qualify for the Citizens Service Corps.

A scout troop is maintained at its fullest by a good leader and a place to meet. Miss Brooks dwelt on the Brownies, a troop of girls from 7 to 10 years and said that it was a form of democracy—choosing who would be program leader, who would decide on colors, etc.—this, she said is Democracy.

Miss Brooks said that girls in girl scouting had the highest camping standards; higher team government and has been recognized as such by the National Camping Association. The speaker also stressed the need for a strong troop committee as a strong means of maintaining your leadership and troop activities.

In closing she again brought out the greater need for increased interest and work because nation-wide changes in communities and community life.

Miss Brooks exhibited a hike kit, apron made of pillow ticking which had pockets for holding spoon, fork etc., while looking and a place for your scout knife. She also showed samples of ties made from different wild growth.

There were present Sister Mary Grace, Sister Blandine, and Mesdames J. E. Goldman, Margaret Backman, Albert Biehl, Louis Fernandez, Catherine Thomas, J. A. Green, Jr., Frank Van Devender, Lucile Anderson, Walter J. Gex, Leo G. For, Lucien M. Gex, Ella Maybin, C. C. McDonald, Miss Louise Armstrong and M. H. Edwards.

Stretching out her hands to relieve distress wherever found, she is the symbol of a great force for good in our evil world.

She is the spirit of the Red Cross, a militant, marching army of good will.

Out of the villages and cities of America, into the heart of the war torn world marches this great people's crusade to keep the lights of civilization burning.

THE RED CROSS is pressing forward on every front. It is carrying overseas ever increasing stores of relief supplies, clothing and medicines to the war victims with all that goes with that vast operation of distribution, warehousing, transportation and administration.

It is shoulder to shoulder with our fighting forces from training camp to the front lines. Understanding and helping with the problems and troubles of the service men and their families.

Sharing the dangers of combat to make those little things that mean so much to men available in shell hole or life raft.

Making the weary days of convalescence more bearable with the human touch and cheerful sympathy that the Gray Ladies give so well.

Training our people on the Home Front. Fighting to sustain public health when doctors and trained nurses go to war. Millions learning through Red Cross First Aid, Home Nursing Courses, Canteen, Motor Corps and Nurse's Aide training to meet the new needs and the grim civilian dangers of modern warfare.

Collecting our people's blood for plasma given so freely and needed so urgently in ever increasing amounts as the casualty lists grow. Organizing and sustaining thousands of production groups where our women give long hours to provide surgical dressings and clothing in enormous quantities.

The barest outline of how the Red Cross serves. It belongs to all of us, it must have support from all.

The Second War Fund is greater than the First, but no greater than the increased needs.

You will not fail the Greatest Mother in the World.

WITH THE FISHERMEN AND OTHER SPORTS

By KANCHU KETCHUM

REMEMBER—Sunday is the last day for catching fresh water fish in Mississippi. The closed season starts Monday, March 1st and continues until May 1st. Fresh water fish cannot be caught during this closed season by any method. Protecting the fish during the spawning season "Protects the Fishing of the Future."

During the past week several nice catches of speckles have been reported. W. S. Morrill has been catching his share on each trip while trolling.

K. S. Elliott, operator of the Twin City Tire Company of Monroe, Louisiana, spent the week end in Bay St. Louis as guest of his brother, Kenny, who enjoyed a swell fishing trip with Bob Gemin and Dec Elliott Saturday afternoon. Twenty speckles and a few green trout was the catch. The party was rained out on Sunday. Mr. Elliott, an expert fly fisherman promises to return after May 1st and go after the big green trout. He tells us of the big ones he gets up home, and we want to show him how we get the big ones down here. Hurry, back Kenny.

Trolling and slaughter pole fishing will be in order after this week. Some few speckles, sheephead and other species have been caught with dead bait.

The hunting season closed last week with a few rabbits being killed. No more hunting until next season.

Jos. di Benedetto and Walter Favre were rained out Sunday while trolling up Jordan River.

There are many beautiful streams here about where fish may be caught most any time. Boats are plentiful and may be rented at a nominal charge. If you are a stranger and don't know where to go fishing, ask any of our local fishermen and they will be glad to give you the information you may need to make you have a good day.

THE LETTER THAT WAS NEVER MAILED

Here is pictured a Red Cross volunteer making surgical dressings, pills of which appear in the background. As 1942 drew to a close, production of these bandages had grown to 500,000 per hour. The touching letter below was written by one of a million Red Cross production workers to her son who was missing in action.

Dear Son:
This letter you will never see, but I must pretend to myself that I can talk with you tonight, on Bataan or wherever you are.
Things are about the same here at home. The war comes closer to the people every day. Many are helping all they can, some seem to go along untouched. Sometimes someone says something that is hard to bear, but I know it is just that they have not understood that they would feel differently if they had had a wife from the War Department beginning. "We resist to inform you."
It is a long time since April, and in these long months we have hoped and feared to know what "missing in action" really means. They say that when you are not on any known list of killed and wounded, we may hope.
I fought I went down to the Red Cross Headquarters and made dressings for two hours. Somehow I was happier there. We cut and folded the gauze dressings, and as the neat white pile mounted I was remembering the little wounds you and the others used to have—the bandaged shin, the cut finger, you and the boys. I cannot find those any more. The wounds are bigger now, and I am far away. But I can make dressings, and pick each one away with a prayer that when they have gone their long journey, they will help nurses and doctors have never seen to bind up the wounds his discarded war has brought.
Under the bright Red Cross banner of mercy, through the hot days of summer, and even at night, women are working to make these dressings. Some of them have sons and husbands in the Service, and some are just beautifully kind women who want to be of help. Some of them are giving up a bridge game, and gladly lend their soft white hands to the work. Some of them have hands that show they always had to work hard and are probably giving hours from the very few leisure ones life gives them. But they are all working together for the same purpose: getting to know and understand and like each other, just as you boys do when you work and fight together.
I hope that some way the boys who need these dressings—the sponges, the 4 x 4s, the rolled bandages, the cottons—sense just a little the love that goes into their making, the yearning to be of service to you, men that the people feel who give the money to pay for them. It is just another way of saying we love you. Goodnight, my darling, wherever you are... my love to you.
Mom.

VOLUNTEER NURSES AIDE of the Red Cross show how help would be given victims of an air raid. The nurse's aide works with a disaster crew, all of whose members are provided with helmets like the one she is wearing. This service is only a part of the widespread preparedness program.

A CIGARETTE from an Army nurse has its own therapeutic value when a lad is banged up a long way from home. This U. S. airman was wounded in a raid on Tokyo war plants. In the first year after Pearl Harbor the Red Cross recruited 21,400 nurses to meet U. S. Army and Navy needs.

BON VOYAGE kits provided by the Red Cross are given soldiers leaving on a transport for foreign fields. They each contain a book, playing cards, cigarettes, writing material, sewing kits, and small toilet articles. Each adds much to an otherwise weary voyage.

THEY EAT, TOO. These war victims of a foreign nation also are fed through the Red Cross. Altogether, 20 million persons have received Red Cross aid in some form since war broke out in September, 1939.

Congressional Sidelights
by
Congressman Wm. M. Colmer

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek

Even as the Japs were making a new and what promises to be an all-out drive for the subjugation of China, a splendid, small Chinese woman with the grace and poise of a queen and an attractiveness that would be envied by many an American girl, Madame Chiang Kai-Shek addressed the Congress of the United States in the nation's Capitol this week. She was more than gracious and graceful. She was more than charming and scintillating. She was intelligent, and she was persuasive. Using perfect English and articulating most clearly, she carried her message to the Congress with the conviction of a crusader. There was not a single person who heard her who did not respond with a sympathetic feeling of comprehension. The House was almost unanimous in its opinion that she was the most effective of all of the emissaries from foreign lands who have sought our assistance and good-will in addressing the House. Of course, she had a sympathetic audience to begin with but this does not detract from her splendid personality, her obvious intelligence, and her comprehension of world conditions.

However, if it was assistance for her brave and beleaguered country that she was seeking, her appeal must be made to the military strategists and not to the Congress. The Congress and the people whom they represent are already unanimous in their desire to assist the brave Chinese people from further aggression by our common enemy. The difficulty now is that the lease-lend goods which are flowing so copiously to other allies can only reach China in dribs and drabs through the air. This condition will necessarily remain until the armies and navies of the Allies can open the Burma Road over which can be transported the heavier and essential sinews of war.

Investigations

As we pointed out in a previous communication, a number of investigating committees have been set up in both branches of the Congress. The purpose of most of these committees is pretty well uniform—they are all more or less aimed at trying to retrieve the powers of the people which have been delegated in some instances and usurped in others by the various agencies of the government. While we all realize that in this complex age of civilization certain Government bureaus and agencies are a necessity, we cannot escape the fact that bureaus, like fungus growths, are inclined to spread and grow.

The Congress or the President sets up an agency of the Government to perform a certain duty. That agency or bureau begins to grow and, in many instances, to perpetuate itself. Each bureau is jealous of the other's field of activity and frequently tries to encroach upon the other's territory. This results in duplications and more and more Government employees. Moreover, these bureaus begin to issue regulations or edicts and presently they are usurping the functions of all of the departments of the Government—legislative, judicial and executive. Therefore, the Congress has set up these various committees with the hope of arriving at some concrete facts upon which to pass legislation to stop the growth of the bureaus before they consume the Government and the rights and liberties of the people.

Catahoula News

THIS is the first week of the last month of school at Catahoula.

Everybody is well pleased with the splendid work that the teachers, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Harrel are doing.

Mrs. Randolph Seal and her little daughter, Dora, who have been on the sick list for a while are improving rapidly.

Mrs. Dorrine Cuevas spent a few days of last week here with her daughter Mrs. Randolph Seal.

Mr. Hiram Seal of Pascagoula was here on business one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Seal and family of Biloxi, Miss., have been visiting relatives here. Mr. Seal returned home this morning to resume his work as a teacher in the Saint Martin school. Mrs. Seal will remain here while. She will also visit her mother and father in Dedeaux community.

Mr. and Mrs. August Lee of Leetown community visited Mr. and Mrs. Simon Bounds Sunday. Other visitors in their home were Mr. Dewey Bounds and daughter Betty Lou, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Lee and baby, Mrs. Lucy Seal and daughter, Myrtle and Vivian, Lovenia, Irene and C. Seal, Bill and Wilton Hoda, Ruth Mitchell and Mr. Buey Culpepper of Salem community.

The House this past week took another tack on this same problem with the Home Owners Loan Corporation. This Agency was set up during the days of the depression to assist the home owners in retaining their homes and to permit them to borrow money to repair them, etc. It was charged from the floor of the House, with some evidence to sustain it, that the Home Owners Loan Corporation was attempting to perpetuate itself by refusing to permit the borrowers to pay back the funds which they had borrowed, and was also refusing to sell the property which it had acquired by foreclosure, although in many instances there was much demand for the property. The net result was that the House cut down on the appropriation of the Home Owners Loan Corporation and demanded that it begin liquidating.

HOSTESSES PRAISED FOR
EFFORTS IN ENTERTAINING
CADETS AT DINNER.

The following letter was received by one of the ladies who was hostess for dinner to two of the cadets from the U. S. Marine Basic School at Henderson Point. The names of the writer and the addressee are withheld by request.

The letter is published that the people might know how deeply these acts of courtesy to the boys are appreciated by the boys and their parents.

More of us should open our homes to these boys, some so far from home. "Dear Mrs.,"

I received your card on Thursday telling me that you had my son George in your home for dinner last Sunday.

Words can never express my feelings when you said that he seems well and happy in his work. To hear from someone else that everything is alright relieves my mind. It meant everything to myself and my husband.

I think it is a wonderful kindness you are doing for the Cadets down there and it means a lot to them. It makes me happy to know that George has such wonderful friends.

I received a letter from George telling me about the lovely times he has been having with hard work in between.

Thanking you again for your kindness to do anything for me or George while he is down there."

Yours sincerely,"

Well - Well - Well -
Old Gimpet-eye is back on the job. He knows all - sees all. He is not a key-hole peeper. Just a simple heeper-jeeper.

The time has come, the Walrus said, To talk of many things, Of shoes, and ships, and sealing wax, And cabbages and kings.

And the Walrus, smart old squirt that he is, could have added, -and Bay St. Louis, too.

What is it that causes people, once they have visited this fair city, to carry in their breast the longing to return to it some day? Some folks say it is because they have eaten a legend. I say that, that is just a legend. Far be it, for me to say that there is a better dish in this world than fried mullet. But is it the taste of the mullet that lingers?

No, -it is the thought of the fellowship, the comradeship the intimacy with your fellow man, that existed at the time you ate those mullet. That is the thing that gets under your hide. Did anyone ever invite you to their house to have a mackerel supper? Or a catfish supper? Or a herring supper? No! They did not. But you have been invited to your neighbor's house for a mullet supper. Don't you remember the host, sitting on a stool in the kitchen, with his wife's flowered apron spread all over him, dressing those mullet while they were still kicking? The secret being, that to be good, a mullet must be fresh, and your host knew his business, believe me. Then you all gather around the table, preferably in the kitchen too. Then you start to eat. "My Goodness," you ask yourself, "how can any fish be this good?" Then the salt water taste begins to tell, -you get thirsty, -your host is far too capable to offer you water. He knows exactly what you need and provides it, pronto.

Grouped around this table, you see every person as they really are. These Bay St. Louis folks. The thought crosses your mind, -"There's old Henry over there, he sure has limbered up there is Hildagard, -my goodness, I never did see her cut up so." Then it dawns on you, that you, yourself are carrying on an intimate conversation with the person on your right, who, you have known for years, but have not said a dozen words to. The mullet supper is completed, -and everyone agrees, was a howling success.

So, -you go home. But you cannot sleep. Plague take those old mullets, I never will eat them at night again, you say. And, -as you lie awake, a great revelation comes to you. You realize that you are not in any physical distress. Wheels are whirling in your head. You are trying to fathom the cause of a feeling that you have never experienced before. Even as old as you are. And suddenly you realize what it is.

It was not the delicious flavor of the mullet. It was not your first party out. It was not that you over ate (although you did) but it was the realization that, -at last I have found PEOPLE that are not just FOLKS.

AND - THAT my friends, is the reason that once a person has ever spent any time in Bay St. Louis, met with the PEOPLE, learned to know the PEOPLE, will never be satisfied until they return. The mullet, poor fish, was simply the medium.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish, through this medium, to express our sincere thanks and lasting gratitude to all (both white and colored) who assisted us during the disastrous fire of Monday, February 15th, which completely destroyed our home and practically all of its contents: And to those who have befriended us in our time of need, following the fire we shall ever be grateful. We especially wish to thank the Shipyard Workers of Biloxi and the members of the Bay St. Louis Fire Department, who worked so hard and earnestly.

Sincerely,
MR. AND MRS. ASA PETERSON.
